CANADA'S TRADE SHOWS INCREASE FOR HALF YEAR

Ottawa, Oct. 16.—The tendency of Canada's trade to expand her exports, to increase her imports, to remain about stationary, or decrease as at present, is shown in the summary of Canadian trade covering the first half of the fiscal year, issued today by the department of customs and excise. The first six months of the fiscal year ended on September 30, last. On that day the grand total of Canadian trade stood at $769,374,880, or $37,664,156 more than in the six-month period which ended September 30, 1921, when it totalled $731,710,724. When the figures for this month of September of the present year are compared with those of the same month in 1921, an increase of $13,877,095 is shown. In the month of September alone this year, Canada's trade totalled $133,262,691, as against $119,385,636 in 1921.

It is in the export figures that the marked increase which is reflected in the grand total is found. During the first six months of the present fiscal year exports of domestic goods totalled $388,223,246, or an increase of $52,556,165 over the total for the first six months of the previous year, which was $335,667,081. The increase in September alone was over thirteen millions. During the past month Canadian goods to the value of $71,692,628 found their way out of the dominion to other countries. In September, 1922, total exports were but $58,643,182.

Turning to the import figures, goods to the total value of $381,157,634 were imported into Canada in the first six months of the fiscal year, as compared with $376,715,250 in the same period a year ago. A comparison of the figures for the month of September shows a slight increase in favor of 1922. During the past month imports totalled $60,318,410, as compared with $59,806,487 in September, 1921, an increase of $511,923.

Foreign merchandise was exported during the six month period of the present year to the total value of $7,225,848, as against $7,218,343 during the same period in the previous fiscal year. The exports of foreign merchandise last month totalled $1,341,653.

DOMINION IS PERMITTED TO NEGOTIATE HER OWN TREATIES

Direct Dealing With U.S. in the Matter of Armaments on Lakes.

Washington, Oct. 17.—Prospective direct negotiations of a new treaty relative to armaments on the Great Lakes and other subjects between Canada and the United States is looked upon here as the real opening of a new era of direct relationship between the two countries. The state department has been informed that Great Britain has given assent to such negotiations which were discussed informally last spring when Premier Mackenzie King visited Washington. The Canadian government will, at an early date, send one or more representatives to Washington to conduct negotiations.

Of broader scope
The new treaty will supplant the 1917 treaty and nominally at least relates to armaments on the Great Lakes. However, there are intimations that it will be of a much wider scope and will include waterways and fisheries.

As understood here, the Canadian government has thus far not looked on the time as ripe for negotiations over the St. Lawrence waterway. Nevertheless the hope is indulged in that at least the way will be paved in the forthcoming negotiations for an understanding over the St. Lawrence channel. Not only that, but in many quarters there is growing apprehension here over the lessening of trade with Canada, and the symptoms of diversion of part of this trade to the United Kingdom, to South America and elsewhere. It is not expected that trade relations will be included in the forthcoming negotiations, but it is pointed out that the way may be paved for closer trade relationship to mutual advantage of both countries.

To meet Conditions
No increase of armaments on the Great Lakes is desired by either country. A clear understanding will be arrived at as to just what each nation can have in the way of armed craft for purposes of enforcing customs, revenue, prohibition and other laws. To enforce such laws the United States is compelled to have more lake vessels than it may technically be entitled to under the old treaty. Such craft are in no way aimed at Canada, but have met with some objections from Canadians. The new treaty will be framed to meet the conditions of 1922 existing by each country without in any way interfering with the spirit of the original arrangement.

FARMERS WILL BE ALLOWED TO FILE NEW HOMESTEADS

Charles Stewart, minister of the interior, arrived in Edmonton Wednesday. Mr. Stewart called on Premier Greenfield during the afternoon in connection with proposal for granting extra homesteads to those farmers who have been unable on account of continued drought conditions or other reasons for which they are not themselves responsible, to make good.

Legislation to this effect will be brought before the Dominion house the next session, states Mr. Stewart, and in case it is decided to grant the extra homesteads, the provincial authorities will be given the responsibility of stating who should be given the opportunity of moving. This would mean that on the recommendation of the provincial government, farmers would be given an opportunity to leave their present homesteads in the south and file on others in the north.

There has been a definite effort on the part of the provincial authorities, with the assistance of the Dominion and the railway officials, to assist those farmers in the drought area to get on to lands in the north where they can make a living. As it is, they have lost all interest in their farms to machinery and loan companies and in many cases are moving off and leaving the country. It is felt by the Dominion government that this exodus could be stopped by giving further option to file on homesteads and thus keep in the country good farmers and men accustomed to conditions as they are here.

CRERAR MAY RESIGN FROM PROGRESSIVE LEADERSHIP

Place in Cabinet is Open to Him, But As a Liberal

Out of the mass of speculation which has been indulged in both east and west, regarding the possibility of a further change in the Liberal and Progressive parties, and the future course of Hon. T. A. Crerar, the following features emerge: The party is to be, or founded on fact: A conference of the Progressive party will be held at Winnipeg at an early date, at which the future of the party will be considered; and Mr. Crerar will either resign the leadership or offer to do so. This much is practically admitted by those closely connected with the party here.

Rumor Not Justified
With regard to the matters of a fusion with the Liberal party, the statement has been made repeatedly within recent weeks that Premier King and the Progressive leader are "dickering" with a view to some form of union or alliance. There is nothing substantiated to justify this rumor, or the belief that the position of the Liberal leader is any different from what it has been ever since taking office, when he offered the Progressives representation in the cabinet. If Mr. Crerar or one of the other leading members of the Progressive party were prepared to enter on that basis, it is probable that the door would still be open to them; but there are many in the Liberal party who believe that the proper tactics to pursue is to leave things as they are, pending a continued measure of support from the Progressives in the house, which will ensure the government a working majority, and which they have good reason to believe will be always forthcoming.

Would Offer Fusion
Anything more than the suggestion that the government does not now hope for, probably does not desire, and it is not likely to receive. The Conservatives of Alberta, particularly, would oppose any fusion, and they would receive support in this attitude from many of the party from other provinces, so that about all that an active move towards fusion would effect, and for the Liberals to accept, would be to split up the Progressives in the west.

Liberal tacticians declare this is not desirable, as it would eventually tend to strengthen the Conservative opposition and release the Conservatives of Alberta, particularly, would oppose any fusion, and they would receive support in this attitude from many of the party from other provinces, so that about all that an active move towards fusion would effect, and for the Liberals to accept, would be to split up the Progressives in the west.

ANGLICANS HAVE NO BLACK LIST
St. Catharines, Oct. 19.—The question of whether the church was going to have the support of the young people in observing the Lord's Day was squarely put before 30 delegates of the Dominion Anglican young people's convention yesterday by Bishop Clark of Niagara.

His lordship stated that the Church of England had no black list of things which are prohibited on Sunday, but trust the people. The bishop stated that when amusements are wholesome, safeguarded with purity, modesty and expediency, the church is satisfied. All lawful things are not expedient. The bishop went on record as being strict against dances and rallies for the purpose of raising money for church purposes. He has nothing against dancing, but the churches should be careful that they do not offend members of the church who have a tender conscience. The matter was left in the hands of the resolution committee.

THE GOVERNMENT REBUKED

So flagrant has been the Government's procedure in making plans for political friends—also in the civil service, or even the judiciary, but on public bodies in which it holds the gift of office—that newspaper editors are to be friendly toward a Liberal administration are moved to openly rebuke. Brantford, Ontario (Ind. Liberator) refers to dismissal of Sir William Hearst from the International Joint High Commission, and to the dismissal of harbor commissioners at Hamilton. It says, editorially:

"The King Government will need to give heed to its ways or it will place itself in a position where it will be deservedly criticized for reverting to the principles of the spoils system, which has been so strongly condemned of late years. Canada still added no strength or prestige to itself when it dismissed such a capable and exemplary public servant as Sir William Hearst from the International Joint High Commission. This act was viewed by the independent public as a reversion to a type of politics that was supposed to have been brought to an end when the patronage system was abolished under the regime of the Union government."

As to Hamilton Harbor Commission, the editor adds:

"One of the latest acts to call for censure is the dismissal of the two harbor commissioners of Hamilton, appointed by the federal government. The third member, appointed by the city, declares his intention of resigning, as a protest against the infidelity of the action. The criticism in this case is well merited. According to both Hamilton papers, there was nothing to justify the cur dismissal of the commissioners. Joseph Herald comments: "Liberalism after all could well be the motto hung out by the powers that be, an unfortunate relegation to old-time methods that it was hoped Canada had outlived."

A CRUEL SLAM

Chatham News (Liberal) published on its first page recently, several days after announcement of the personnel of the new Canadian National Railway board, a cartoon entitled "The Kind of Experts Called In." This depicts the C.N.R. as a patient, half-dressed, and much emaciated, on an operating table. About him are five individuals, not too bright-looking, in consultation. One is a surgeon, looking up a book on beekeeping. A black-coated lawyer is browsing in a book labeled "Divorce Law," and an insurance expert is consulting a mortality table. The others are a stockbroker and a broker. The patient is exclaiming: "For heaven's sake get me a doctor!"

BUSINESS CONDITIONS

Our statisticians, after interviewing various people, gives the following reports on business conditions in general:

The first person interviewed was an artist's model, who admitted that she was just making a bare living.

"Business is dull," remarked the actor's grinder.

"Looking up," declared the astronomer.

"Dead," said the undertaker.

"Flies," said the judge.

"Quiet," said the bootlegger.

"Quieter, better," said the beauty doctor.

"Fair," said the street car conductor.

"Reason," said the egg man.

"Pretty soft," said the mattress maker.

"Light," said the gas man.

"I have seen the worst," said the butcher.

"Hav' to beat," said the bass drummer.

"Just sew, sew," said the seamstress.

"Bum," said the hobo.

"Looking brighter," said the boot-black.

The preacher, who was the last one seen, admitted that he was working to beat the devil.

SUPPORT YOUR HOME TOWN

Catalogue houses are busy the last few weeks sending out their printed literature to get people interested in their goods so as to get them to send in orders. Too often the descriptions are misleading, which a local merchant cannot do as he is here right along and must back up the goods. There is a lot in going after business, however, and that is where the outside offers have the advantage over the local man. A farmer sizes up the situation well as follows:

"Personally I believe a family should trade wherever it can do the best. I know the long run I believe a family can do better by trading regularly at home, but there is one phase of the large business habit that we farmers ought to consider. Most of our troubles come from the city. Few, if any, of the troubles of the city come from the country. Practically all of them come from the centres of population. It is country money that has built up the great city catalogue houses and the catalogue houses are simply one of the large business institutions dominating our country which have their locations in the big cities. The farmers of the country have built up these catalogue houses and thereby helped to secure the business enterprise of the nation in the large cities. It is to our interests to have the small towns built up—not the big cities. No greater calamity could come to us as farmers trying to build up our rural market centres than to have the big cities kill off the villages where we want our marketing enterprises established. Of course it is true that country merchants must deliver the goods at reasonable prices, and this most of them do. That being the case, it is to our local interests, I believe, to build up business in our home towns rather than in the big cities."

ALBERTA CREAMERY BUTTER

There are five centralized creameries in Edmonton drawing cream from all parts of the province touched by the railways from Red Deer North. They are: The E.C.C.D. (said to be the largest output in Canada), the Woodland, the Swift Canadian Co., the P. Burns Co. and the United Creameries. Besides the Edmonton creameries there are a number of local creameries, some co-operative, some the result of private enterprise and some subsidiaries of the centralized creameries. At Ryley and Viking the local creameries are co-operative. At Tafted, Wainwright, Lacombe, Red Deer (two at Red Deer), St. Paul de Nitte, Bentley, Rimbey, and at Valhalla, in the northwestern section of the Grande Prairie district, they are local enterprises. At Wetaskiwin, Daysland, Vermilion, Grande Prairie and Peace River are subsidiaries of the E.C.C.D. At Camrose the Central Creameries Co. has a creamery, and at Ponoka there is a creamery under joint control.

New local creameries are being built at Kitcoy, Westcott and Montfort by the E.C.C.D., by the P. Burns Co. at Mannville, and by the Wainwright company at Irma.

At Wetaskiwin and Vermilion it is estimated that during the height of the milking season, the milk checks for the E.C.C.D. and P. Burns Co. total $1000 a day.

Of 12 million pounds of creamery butter made in Alberta during the past year, it is estimated that 65 per cent. was made in the country extending from north of Edmonton to Red Deer. At an average estimated value of 40 cents a pound, the creamery butter produced in Red Deer would be worth over three and a half million dollars.

Eggs and poultry are handled at the milk receiving stations, and paid for by check. Hitherto there has been a market in British Columbia for the surplus eggs and poultry of Alberta, but the home production has increased so much in that province that the market for the Alberta product is practically closed for all classes of poultry except turkeys.

WEEKLY NEWS LETTER

Issued by Publicity Commissioner,
Government Buildings, Edmonton.

Work of Alberta Provincial Police.
The annual report of the Alberta Provincial Police for the year 1921, recently published, contains valuable information relative to the activities of the body.

The strength of the force as at the end of December was 300 cars, 176 non-commissioned officers and men, 63 horses, 16 automobiles, 2 power boats, 7 bloodhounds.

In criminal offences there were 6551 cases entered, 123 awaiting trial, with 5719 convictions obtained, giving a percentage of 85 in convictions.

The total number of prisoners handled by the force during the year was 3,401.

The number of cases against women was 81, an increase on the previous year. Thirty-four convictions were obtained. Forty were either withdrawn or dismissed, and there were seven awaiting trial.

Offences against property, ordinary thefts, accounts for 600 cases entered, against 524 in 1920, a decrease of 84 cases. Four hundred and forty convictions were obtained, 130 cases were withdrawn or dismissed, and there were 28 awaiting trial.

There were 53 cases of horse and cattle stealing entered this year, 40 convictions obtained, eight cases dismissed, and six important cases awaiting trial, an increase of four cases on 1920.

During the year the force handled 281 insane persons—91 females and 190 males.

There were 1362 cases entered under the Liquor Act, and 1,269 convictions obtained, 55 dismissals and withdrawals, and only one case awaiting trial. The special liquor scout accounted for 291 cases, obtaining 264 convictions, 1071 cases were handled by the uniform members of the force, and 1002 convictions obtained. This shows a decrease of 177 cases handled by this force as compared with 1920. The decrease is due to the fact that after February, 1921, the different city police bodies handled the Liquor Act cases in the cities.

Schools of Agriculture Open October 31st.
The Agricultural Schools of this province will be opened for the winter course on October 31st. The enrollment of pupils is progressing, and it is expected that there will be an increase in attendance over 1921. On the 17th and 18th the principals of the different schools, Mr. S. H. Gardner, of Vermilion, Mr. F. S. Girdale, of Oids, Mr. J. C. Hooper, of Claresholm, and Mr. O. S. Longman, of Raymond, were in Edmonton and attended a conference, at which the work of the schools and the plans for the winter season were discussed with departmental officials. Mr. H. A. Craig, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, and Mr. J. Ross, Deputy Minister of Education, attended the meeting.

Schools of Agriculture Open October 31st.

An important conference of officials of the Department of Agriculture and the Department of Education, interested in the work of the Alberta School Fairs, was held in the government buildings on Tuesday. The school fairs movement has become very popular, and very substantial success attended this year's fairs. The conference discussed ways and means for improvement. There is complete co-operation between the two departments in encouraging expansion along the lines of education which is brought into prominence through the activities of the school fairs. The prize lists and charts regarding the 1923 fairs will be issued and put in circulation before the end of the present year.

School Fairs for 1923

Since the death of John Stooks in 1917, there has been no appointments made to fill his place on the Public Utilities Board until this week when E. J. Fream, drought relief commissioner, received the appointment, and will assume his duties on December 1st.

Mr. Fream came to Alberta from Gloucester, City, England, some years ago, and located in Innisfail. He has been associated with the United Grain Growers, as secretary since it was organized, and was also the first secretary of the U.G.A., a position he resigned several years ago, when the work became too great for one man to handle both positions. He was also secretary of the association of municipalities.

Chicago Seed Grain Exhibit

The Department of Agriculture and the Faculty of Agriculture of the University of Alberta, have arranged to have the Seed Grain Exhibit of the grain shown at the Chicago International Exposition which will be held December 2nd to 9th.

The grains for exhibit will be collected at three points in the province, and those desiring to enter should send their grain to one of the following: Prof. G. L. Galt, Faculty of Agriculture, University of Alberta, Edmonton; G. M. Stewart, Dominion Seed Branch, Calgary, or Don Bark, C.P.R. Irrigation, Brooks. The grains will be examined and selections made of those best fitted to enter the competition. Particulars regarding the above addresses should also be sent to Prof. Galt advising him of the address to which the exhibitor desires to have his exhibit entered.

The shipment of the selected grain to the exhibition is the passing of the U.S. Customs, and the placing of the exhibit at the show will be looked after by the Department of Agriculture who will express charges to Chicago. If any of the exhibitors desire the samples returned, this would be done at the exhibition. A circular has been prepared at the University of Alberta, outlining the requirements necessary for the exhibition of seed for the exhibit. The circular has been mailed to members of the Federated Seed Growers' Association, but it can be obtained by any prospective exhibitor by applying to the U.S. Customs, University of Alberta, Edmonton.

Will Visit Peace River District

H. A. Craig, deputy minister of agriculture, and S. G. Carlyle, provincial stock commissioner, expect to leave this week for the Peace River country, when they will address a number of meetings.

The dates for the meetings at the Beaver Lodge Farm are slated for October 25 and 26 and at the Prairie there will be meetings Saturday and Sunday, October 28 and 29. Other meetings throughout the district have also been arranged, where Mr. Craig and Mr. Carlyle will speak.

Provincial Poultry Shows

The annual Provincial Poultry Show will be held in Edmonton on January 18th to 19th, 1923. The show will be under the management of W. J. Stark, manager of the Edmonton Exhibition. The following judges have been selected: Richard Oke, London, Ontario; G. G. Henderson, Hamilton, Ontario; W. Wood, Winnipeg; J. S. Shackleton, Edmonton; W. Stonehouse, Vancouver; I. H. Emerson, Leithbridge; F. Bailey, Calgary.

The Provincial Poultry Branch in connection with the Department of Agriculture is having a shipment of two carloads of Alberta eggs to London, England. There are indications that the London market will furnish an outlet for some of Alberta's surplus poultry products.

Government Settles Calgary Gas Dispute.

In acting as mediators between the City of Calgary and the Canadian Western Natural Gas Co., and effecting a settlement of the long drawn out fight between these two bodies, the Alberta Government has rendered a sensible and efficient service.

Advance announcements regarding Alberta's representation after the passing of the new redistricition bill at Ottawa, is that we will have sixteen members of the House of Commons instead of twelve.

QUARANTINE MUST BE OBSERVED IN PROVINCE

Breaking quarantine for any infectious disease in any part of Alberta, will be treated by the law as an offence against the law, punishable by fine or imprisonment. This is as set forth in the new provincial health regulations, the compilation and revision of which has just been completed by the board of health and passed by order in council.

It is now provided that a local board of health may fine any person so breaking quarantine the sum of $25.00, four-fifths of which is to be the property of the local board, with which to fight the spread of the disease, or may impose imprisonment in default of paying the fine.

A mass of detail in connection with the various health laws of the province has been incorporated in the revised regulations of quarantines; the various provisions are clauses governing soft drink fountains; the sanitary maintenance of crammeries; the cleansing of slaughter houses; disinfecting of barber shops and laundries; the sanitary conditions of hotels, restaurants and apartment houses, and the heating and ventilation of all public buildings.

CORRESPONDENCE

John Baile, Esq., General Agent,
Mutual Life Insurance Co., of Canada, Red Deer, Alta.

Dear Sir—
I wish to correct certain rumors that have been going around in this district about yourself and the above company relative to my insurance with the company.

When I was first taken ill I did not expect that it would be of any duration and hoped to recover shortly. I, therefore, made no claim whatever upon the company until March 4th, 1922, and I clearly understood that the company would not pay and by the terms of my policy I could not claim anything for six months from the date of proof of disability and as soon as that time expired the company paid my claim through you as their agent, and I have every reason to believe that had I anticipated my trouble would have been permanent, I would have received the payments sooner, had I made application for the same.

I have only the kindest words to say on behalf of your company, which has treated me fairly in every particular, and on behalf of yourself, and I could not receive better treatment from anyone than I have received from yourself and your company.

Yours truly,
(Sgd.) J. W. W. SLACK.

IF EDITORS TOLD THE TRUTH

Only a short time ago the editor of a paper in Indiana grew tired of being called a liar, and announced that he would tell the truth in future, and the next issue contained the following items:

John Coyle, our grocerman, is doing a fine business. His store is dirty and musty. How can he do much?

The Rev. Mr. Stye preached last Sunday on Charity. His sermon was punk.

Dave Cankey died at his home here Tuesday. The doctor gave it out as heart failure. Whiskey killed him.

I mass of detail in connection with the various health laws of the province has been incorporated in the revised regulations of quarantines; the various provisions are clauses governing soft drink fountains; the sanitary maintenance of crammeries; the cleansing of slaughter houses; disinfecting of barber shops and laundries; the sanitary conditions of hotels, restaurants and apartment houses, and the heating and ventilation of all public buildings.

It will be a hard life.

Next Saturday is Dollar Day

This is not our stunt, the idea did not occur to us, but we are pleased to co-operate with the other merchants in an effort to make this the greatest merchandising occasion Red Deer has had. We have no doubt every store will offer bargains such as have been rarely seen. Each store featuring its own specials without consideration for what other stores are offering, thus making it desirable to visit every store in town in order that all the varieties of plums may be sampled.
